

and better cultivated Country, to harrass and plunder its Inhabitants, and to live in a State of War, even in a Time of the most profound Peace, will be entirely taken away.

The Climate and Soil are certainly much mended since the French first settled there: The former is become milder, and the latter more fruitful; farther Cultivation, and greater Population, the Destruction of Woods, the raising of Towns and Villages, will contribute to a farther Melioration; and whatever our new Conquests may be, it will grow better and better, so long as it remains in our Hands; and of Consequence the Inhabitants will grow richer.

We can certainly supply all their Wants, as easily, and at as cheap a Rate, as the French could do; and furnish them much better, for carrying on their Trade with the Indians: So that whatever they acquire we shall have; and we shall have the more, the more they acquire. We can easily prevent their having any Communication with their old Masters, if they should desire it: But if we supply them upon better Terms, there is no Reason why they should desire it. Upon the Whole, therefore, the Accession of such a Territory, and such a Number of People, must be very beneficial to this Country, and therefore it seems best to keep it.

I will take the Liberty, at my first Leisure, to trouble you with some other Reasons, if you think fit to publish these.

I remain, &c.

By a Company of PHYSICIANS and SURGEONS, At their Warehouse, removed from Dowgate-hill to the Golden Key in Exeter-street, near the Strand. The best Medicine ever yet offer'd to the Public.

THE Grand Antivenereal Tincture, which safely and radically cures every Stage of the Venereal Disorder, from the slightest Clap to the most confirmed Pox, even after Salivation and every other Method has failed; it is very pleasant to take, requires not the least Confinement, and cures much sooner and at much less Expence than any other Medicine ever yet discovered; it would be needless to point out to the Public the difference between the above Company, who are Gentlemen of unblemished Characters, and regularly bred to Physic and Surgery in all its Branches; and a Set of illiterate Quacks (brought up to Manual Labour) that have so long infested this great Metropolis, to the Ruin of Thousands who, drawn in by their pompous Advertisements, have unhappily confided in their pernicious Medicines. More than 6000 Bottles of this Tincture, at 4s. each Phial, have been sold since February last was a Twelvemonth, and never yet have been known to fail in a single Instance. The above Company attend at their Warehouse every Day from Nine in the Morning till Nine at Night, to give their Advice gratis in every Case of Physic and Surgery; and are willing on Notice to meet any Gentleman of the Faculty in Consultation. Letters (Post-paid) from Surgeons and Apothecaries, in Town or Country, stating the Cases, duly considered, and answered gratis.

At the above Warehouse may likewise be had, a Tincture for Gleets and Seminal Weaknesses, whether from Venereal Injuries or any other Cause.

DISAPPOINTMENTS will never cease to persecute Mr. and Mrs. PASERINI: They had taken all the necessary Measures for performing this Evening the Oratorio of SAMSON with as much Perfection as possible; had fixed the said Performance on a Day that they thought the Subscribers would be in Town; had rehearsed the Oratorio last Saturday; when they heard that there would be an Opera this Day the first of June, instead of Tuesday, where some of the Performers that were necessary for the said Oratorio are engaged, which puts it out of Mr. and Mrs. Paserini's Power to perform it as it should be, therefore they are obliged to postpone the said Performance till farther Notice.

MR. ZUCKER begs Leave to inform the Nobility and Gentry, that to the Performances he exhibits every Day in the Week at Mr. Hickford's Great Room in Pantock-street, with the greatest Applause; he will add the following, viz. He will not only metamorphose all the inanimated Objects as usual, but also transforms himself into the following different Shapes, in a Manner new and admirable; into a Turk, and plays the Turkish Musick; into an Amazon; into a Calabrian, and plays with Balls; into an Holland Peasant; into a Swiss in antique Dress; into a Lady; into a Spaniard; into a Running Footman; into a Cook, and the Cook changes his Boy into a Monster. Pit 3s. Second Places 2s. Gallery 1s. The Doors will be opened at Six, and begin precisely at Half an Hour after. Gentlemen or Ladies may have a private Performance at Twelve o'Clock any Day in the Week, by giving Notice at the Place of Performance.

AS many repeated Puffs have appeared from various Parts of this Town for a long Course of Time in different Papers upon the like Articles, for the Benefit of those Ladies and others who remain unprejudiced, I am inclined to direct them to the Indian Queen in Tavistock-street, Covent Garden, for Variety of plain, striped, spotted, and flowered Silks, an Assortment having lately been purchased considerably under their real Value, and will be sold this and the following Days greatly under prime Cost.

To all good Christians, YOUR Petitioner, 82 Years of Age, who has been a creditable Housekeeper many Years; but, by long Sickness and great Losses in Trade, is greatly reduced, humbly begs the Charitable to assist him in his present Distress, which is very great; he now lies extremely ill, and has little or nothing to support him; he will always pray heartily for his Benefactors, and return Thanks in this Paper.

Please to leave your charitable Contributions with Mr. Madders, at the Woolpack, Berkley-square; Mrs. Berrisford, Necklace-maker, at the Crown end Pearl the upper End of New Bond-street, near Oxford-Road; Mr. William Jones, at his Tea Warehouse, Jermyn-street, St. James's; and at Mr. Bowyear's Lace-Chambers, the Top of Bedford-Row. Any of the above-mentioned Persons are well acquainted with the Petitioner, and can testify the Truth of the above Particulars, and will direct any Persons to the Place of his Abode. The Petitioner most humbly returns Thanks to the worthy Ladies for Three Half Crowns, by Mrs. Berrisford; Two Half Guineas and a Crown, by Mr. Madders; Half a Guinea, by Mr. Bowyear; and Five Shillings, by Mr. Jones.

MARGARET MOFFATT, Widow of the late Thomas Moffatt, Taylor, at the Golden Key and Star in Lancaster Court in the Strand, continues to carry on the Business in all its Branches, on the same reasonable Terms as her late Husband did; and she acknowledges herself greatly obliged to those Ladies and Gentlemen who have been so good as to honour her with their Commands and Recommendations; and as she is a Widow, she most humbly begs for a Continuance of their Favours.

Proposals at large to be had at her House as above, where she most humbly desires those who may be so kind as to honour her with their Commands, to send or write for them; and assures her Customers that they may depend on having their Work perform'd in the best and genteelst Manner, and to their own Time, at the lowest Prices, as may be seen by her Proposals.

To be LETT,

To a single Gentleman,

A One-Pair of Stairs Floor, consisting only of two Rooms elegantly furnished, and a Room for a Servant.

Enquire of Mr. William Linnell in Berkley-square.

YARMOUTH BATH.

ON Monday the 4th of May was opened the Sea Baths at Yarmouth, in the County of Norfolk. They are filled every Morning, and during the Time of bathing are renewed by a continual supply at the End of the Bath; the superfluous Water being carried back into the Sea by a Conveyance for that Purpose at the opposite End. The general Approbation which these Baths met with last Summer, makes it unnecessary to expatiate upon their Convenience and Elegance. There is a great Variety of convenient Lodgings in Town, and all Strangers will be assisted in procuring proper Accommodations, by applying to any of the Proprietors, or the Bath Keeper. The Rooms will be opened as usual.

There will be a convenient Bathing-Chair, and a Guide for the Ladies.

This Day is publish'd, Price 6d.

A New Edition of

THE Northern Phenomenon, with the Addition of his Mud Box; as it now appears stuck fast at its Moorings.

To be had at Mr. Yates's, at the Royal Exchange; and at John Ryall's, at Hogarth's Head in Fleet-street.
